

To: All members, U.S. Senate

Subject: Omnibus Public Land Management Act of 2008

Senate Majority Leader Harry Reid recently announced his plans to call back the Senate for a lame duck session to pass a massive land grab bill that will restrict property rights and hamstring energy exploration in the United States. On behalf of the undersigned organizations representing hundreds of thousands of taxpayers, small businesses, shareholders, consumers, and senior citizens, we strongly urge you to oppose the Omnibus Public Land Management Act of 2008.

This legislation contains over 1,000 pages and is comprised of more than 100 different land grab bills. From wilderness areas to heritage areas to wild and scenic rivers, this omnibus bill advances a centralized command-and-control vision of American lands. The federal government already owns over 650 million acres of land, much of which is experiencing severe maintenance backlogs or has already gone into disarray. We are concerned the omnibus bill would lock millions of additional acres of land into government regulation, preventing American citizens from exercising their right of property ownership.

American Land Rights Association

By restricting access to land for energy exploration, this legislation is limiting the potential of the economy and directly interfering with America's entrepreneurial drive. Through the creation of unnecessary new "conservation" programs, millions of additional acres of land will be managed by a vast government bureaucracy and its additional levels of "red tape." This bill would ultimately force the American taxpayer to fund the purchase of land that could have otherwise been utilized in the private sector.

AMERICAN LEGISLATIVE EXCHANGE COUNCIL

Furthermore, this $4 billion omnibus package contains a multitude of pork-barrel spending projects. At a time when taxpayers around the country are struggling to make ends meet, asking them to shoulder an even higher spending burden is unacceptable. Birthday celebrations for cities, tropical botanical gardens, and a study determining whether Alexander Hamilton's boyhood estate is suitable to become a new National Park unit clearly are not national priorities, and treating them as such is an affront to your constituents.

AMERICAN PROPERTY COALITION

As a matter of principle, property rights should be protected by recognizing the right of citizens to utilize and prosper from the land in this country. Legislation should never arbitrarily attempt to seize land from the public and restrict its use, as the omnibus package would. We urge you to stand up and reject Senator Reid's effort to force this larded-up land grab down taxpayers' throats.
