

www.cei.org

The Durbin Amendment is part of the Dodd-Frank financial services "reform" law. It was supported by lobbyists for major retailers, and it imposes severe price controls on the voluntary debit card agreements that had been in place.

As a result, the free checking and free debit cards that many of us enjoy have been jeopardized. This is yet another example of how intrusive laws that supposedly protect the public in reality end up hurting it.

711 Hart Senate Bldg, Washington, DC 20510
 Feel free to send this to Sen. Durbin with your comments:

IN BIG GOV. WE TRUST?

